Trap Danmark : topografisk atlas : 1:75.000

Trap Danmark, Denmark. Hardcover. 305 pages. ISBN 9788771810431. In Danish. 2017.

Trap Denmark Topographic Atlas is the first atlas of Denmark printed with three-dimensional (3D) effect. Using shadow effects, the map gives you an intuitive 3D impression of the shapes of the landscape. See, for example, how the flat, dammed and dried-up Lammefjord is surrounded by a hilly ice age landscape. See how the river Gudenåen meanders through the landscape after the terrain. And see how the forests, roads and cities of your home area are largely aligned with the terrain.

Mapping Laois from the 16th to the 21st century

WordWell Books, Ireland. Hardcover. 376 pages. ISBN 9781999790967. In English. 2018.

In 'Mapping Laois from the 16th to the 21st century', Arnold Horner reviews and seeks to provide context for the extraordinarily rich diversity of manuscript and printed maps that record the changing political, economic and social circumstances of an Irish county over nearly five centuries. The flavour of these varied, informative and often colourful maps is captured in over 400 illustrations, among which are reproductions of six early county maps and a unique assemblage of images.

Trade, Popular and Reference Maps and Atlases

Featured Publisher: Fishing Hot Spots

Fishing Hot Spots started in 1975 when they created their first book of lake maps. To give anglers the best advantage possible, the maps featured helpful advice on how and where to fish on each lake. Before long, they transitioned to the rugged, water-proof maps that they are known for today. Larger and more detailed, these maps featured more and better information. Over time, the maps evolved, first, gaining precision through state-of-the-art, digital cartography. Their current collection of where-to-fish information includes more than 600 print-edition maps spanning 41 states and digital products featuring over 150,000 points of interest.
